I am a front-end developer and designer looking to bring a bit of colour and vigour to an otherwise conservative and at times even repetitive industry. My passion lies in solving problems, but my experience as an artist taught me that composition, colour theory and dynamism do not only apply to art, or at least not in its traditional sense.

Experience

Front-end Developer at Propeller Communications
www.propeller.co.uk
July 2015 – Present

Flexible front-end role where I occasionaly get to wear the allmighty full-stack hat. I build websites in FuelPHP and WordPress, while also managing a few multi-site templates for hospitality clients.

Current workflow includes automation via Gulp, BEM methodology using SASS and version control through Git.

Notable works: J.W. Lees WordPress multi-site theme, VQ 24 Hours, Aquum and Sen-Nin.

Freelance Web Designer & Developer
June 2013 – Present

Responsible for project planning with clients, negotiating contracts, developing wireframes, mock-ups and high-end designs, as well as coding and maintaining websites.

Freelance Concept Artist & Illustrator
May 2012 – Present

Developing quick concepts of creatures, humans, vehicles or environments to be used as references for book writers or for game and/or movie development. Creating realistic or fantasy illustrations for book and album covers, as well as for website graphics.

Freelance Work

Coventry University's Centre for Agroecology, Water and Resilience
March 2015 – April 2015

Mockups and high-end designs made in Photoshop. Book showcase, publications file browser, custom video player, geolocated interactive gallery, log-in system and vBulletin forum.

Tim Kelly, writer
April 2014 – May 2014

Built using HTML5, CSS3 and Javascript on WordPress. Newsletter, Google Analytics and simple PayPal setup. Terms and Conditions of Sale service. Cross-browser support. Responsive.
